TAD ALAN GREGURICH
PUBLIC-RECORD RESEARCH BRIEF

Rhema / Kenneth Hagin Ministries connection, family and education, affiliated nonprofit, international travel, and financial-information review

Prepared for Oklahoma Child Wellbeing
June 24, 2026

Scope and reliability note. This brief separates (1) information stated by official Rhema or Gregurich Ministries pages, (2) material supplied in a June 24, 2026 Facebook screenshot, and (3) information not established by the sources reviewed. The report does not infer wrongdoing from ministry, family, travel, or nonprofit relationships. Personal income, personal assets, and personal net worth are not stated as fact without reliable public documentation.

1. Executive Findings

Verified public-facing role: Tad Gregurich is publicly presented by Rhema Bible Church as an Associate Pastor and as the Dean of Rhema Bible Training College (RBTC). Rhema states that he joined the Rhema Alumni Office and RBTC faculty in 2001 and was appointed RBTC dean and Rhema associate pastor in 2008. [S1]

Separate organization: Gregurich Ministries Inc. is publicly listed as a Broken Arrow, Oklahoma 501(c)(3), EIN 73-1595971. The organization is listed as “Not Rated” by Charity Navigator because it has not received the public filing data required for a rating; this is not a misconduct finding and does not, by itself, prove that a return was not filed. [S4]

International activity: His published biographical material describes international-campus oversight and travel connected to Rhema-related education and ministry. A ministry team page also states that the family’s work includes international missions and a Kenya 2026 mission trip. [S2][S3]

Financial information: The sources reviewed do not establish Tad Gregurich’s salary, any family member’s compensation, household net worth, personal property ownership, nonprofit budget, travel reimbursements, or related-party payments. These items require actual filings, returns, compensation records, contracts, board documents, or public property/business records. [S4][S8]

2. Identity, Rhema Connection, and Career Timeline

Period	Publicly reported role or activity	Source
1979-1982	Undergraduate studies at Illinois College in Jacksonville, Illinois; a later biography says he left after three years to attend Rhema.	S3

1984-1993	Public biography reports senior associate pastor, worship leader, and youth-pastor work in Auburn, Illinois.	S3
1993-2000	Public biography reports senior associate pastor and worship-leader work in Carrollton, Kentucky.	S3
2001	Rhema reports he became a staff minister in the Rhema Alumni Office and an RBTC instructor.	S1
2006	Rhema archive places him in the RMAI/Alumni office.	S5
2008	Rhema reports appointment as Dean of RBTC and Associate Pastor at Rhema Bible Church.	S1
2009-2013	Rhema archives show him presiding as RBTC dean and discussing RBTC accreditation as dean.	S6, S7
Current materials reviewed	Rhema identifies him as an associate pastor; Gregurich Ministries identifies him and Amanda as working at Kenneth Hagin Ministries and RBTC.	S1, S2

3. Education

Person	Publicly reported education / credential	Status of record
Tad Alan Gregurich	Illinois College undergraduate studies (1979-1982); two-year pastoral-ministry diploma from RBTC (1982-1984); a 1995	Reported in public biography and LinkedIn summary; degree verification would require institutional confirmation.

	combined theology degree through Faith Theological Seminary and Christian College; Doctor of Ministry from School of Bible Theology Seminary and University, per public profile/biography.	[S3][S9]
Amanda Gregurich	Public team page identifies her as working with Tad at Kenneth Hagin Ministries and RBTC. Earlier public-profile references reviewed in the prior research list Nelson University and RBTC, but no degree title, major, or graduation date was confirmed in this research set.	Employment/association is stated by ministry page; education remains incomplete in the verified record. [S2]
Tanner Gregurich	Gregurich Ministries states he graduated from RBTC in 2017 and earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Oklahoma Wesleyan University.	Self-reported ministry biography; degree verification would require institution confirmation. [S2]
Shiloh Gregurich	No school, credential, license, major, or graduation date established in the reviewed public materials.	Not established.
Emily Gregurich	Rhema identifies Tad and Amanda as parents of two children, Emily and Tanner. No degree, college, credential, or graduation date for Emily was established in the reviewed sources.	Not established. [S1]

4. Family and Ministry-Related Affiliations

- Rhema's biography identifies Tad Gregurich's spouse as Amanda and identifies their children as Emily and Tanner. It states Tad and Amanda married in 1988. [S1]
- Gregurich Ministries presents Tad and Amanda as a ministry couple who have served in associate-pastor, worship, youth, children's-ministry, and itinerant-missionary roles, and says they currently work at Kenneth Hagin Ministries and RBTC. [S2]
- Gregurich Ministries identifies Tanner and Shiloh Gregurich as part of the public ministry team. The page states that Tanner and Shiloh own three personal-training gyms in the Tulsa area. The page itself does not identify the specific gym entities, ownership percentages, revenue, or whether those enterprises have any financial relationship to Gregurich Ministries or Rhema. [S2]
- No source reviewed establishes that any family member is a paid officer, employee, contractor, board member, or vendor of Gregurich Ministries. That would require actual corporate records, Form 990/990-EZ disclosures, payroll records, contracts, or board minutes.

5. International Work and Reported Travel

Published biography states that Gregurich served as an International Campus Director and describes work connected to Rhema-related campuses and ministry development. The following country list is presented as biography-reported travel, not an independently audited travel ledger: [S3]

Angola | Brazil | Ghana | Germany | Guatemala | Haiti | Italy | Kenya | Peru | Quebec, Canada | Romania | Thailand | Zambia

The same biography states that he led student and alumni mission trips to Kenya, Peru, Romania, and Thailand. [S3]

Gregurich Ministries states that Tanner and Shiloh have traveled in ministry to Thailand, Guatemala, Kenya, Brazil, and locations in the United States. [S2]

Kenya is the most visible current program connection in the reviewed material. The Gregurich Ministries site promotes a Kenyan Orphan Project and a Kenya 2026 Mission Trip. The public materials reviewed do not independently verify program metrics, itinerary details, host entities, trip finances, donor restrictions, or safeguarding compliance. [S2]

6. June 24, 2026 Facebook Exhibit

The user-supplied screenshot shows a Gregurich Ministries Facebook post tagged with “Tad Alan Gregurich” and “Tad Gregurich.” The post says: “Teaching on the unity of the brethren. It's so important that we put away jealousy, envy, and strife.” The images show a speaker in front of an audience that includes adults and children, with another adult at the front. The screenshot does not identify country, city, host church, dates of travel, funding source, or sponsoring entity. [E1]

7. Nonprofit, Income, Net Worth, and Assets

Public nonprofit identification. Charity Navigator lists Gregurich Ministries Inc. as a Broken Arrow, Oklahoma 501(c)(3) organization with EIN 73-1595971. It is listed as not rated because the platform has not received the public data needed to create a star rating. Charity Navigator specifically notes that entities may be listed but not rated when they do not meet the filing-data requirements, including situations where they file only Form 990-EZ or 990-N. [S4]

Topic	What the reviewed sources establish	What is not established by these sources
Personal salary / compensation	No amount found for Tad, Amanda, Tanner, Shiloh, or Emily.	Salary, housing allowance, honoraria, benefits, travel reimbursement, contractor payments, or combined compensation.
Family net worth	No reliable public net-worth figure located.	Household assets, debts, investments, business equity, or personal cash holdings.
Gregurich Ministries revenue / expenses	Nonprofit is publicly listed; no reviewed source supplied audited statements or a full IRS financial return.	Annual receipts, grant/donation mix, program expenses, executive pay, travel expense, vendor payments, or related-party transactions.
Personal assets / property	No safe, verified personal-asset inventory is included in this brief.	Home address, property values, vehicles, bank accounts, investment holdings, trust assets, or private financial records.
Business interests	Ministry team page states Tanner and Shiloh own three personal-training gyms in Tulsa area.	Specific legal entities, ownership shares, revenues, debts, licenses, vendors, or connections to the nonprofit/Rhema.

Why a Form 990 matters. The IRS requires a standard Form 990 filer to report current officers, directors, trustees, key employees, and certain highly compensated employees; however, smaller organizations can file a 990-N e-Postcard, which does not provide the same detail. A full return, when available, is the appropriate source for compensation and related-party analysis. [S8]

8. Records Needed Before Making Income, Asset, or Conflict Claims

1. IRS Tax Exempt Organization Search results and copies of all available Form 990, 990-EZ, or 990-N filings for Gregurich Ministries Inc. (EIN 73-1595971).
2. Oklahoma Secretary of State entity record, annual reports, and officer/registered-agent history for Gregurich Ministries Inc. and any business entities publicly tied to the family.
3. Board roster, bylaws, conflict-of-interest policy, written compensation-setting policy, and meeting minutes for Gregurich Ministries.
4. Written mission-trip materials: trip fee schedule, funding source, budget, cancellation/refund terms, reimbursement policy, whether funds are restricted, and post-trip accounting.
5. Written safeguarding and overseas-partner due-diligence policies for child-focused activities, including volunteer screening, photography, travel supervision, grievance reporting, and independent complaint pathways.
6. Any contemporaneous Rhema/RBTC policy defining whether staff, student recruitment, facilities, donor lists, travel logistics, curriculum, or branding may be used by an employee's separate nonprofit.

9. Documented Facts vs. Unverified Questions

Documented in source material	Not established; requires records
• Long-standing Rhema relationship and leadership roles.	• Personal and family compensation.

• RBTC training and later dean/instructor role.	• Personal net worth and personal assets.
• Association with Rhema Alumni/RMAI office in archival material.	• Nonprofit budget, donor restrictions, and expense allocations.
• Gregurich Ministries public team and Kenya-focused program promotion.	• Whether family members are paid by the nonprofit or related entities.
• Biography-reported international travel and mission trips.	• Whether Rhema resources are used by the separate nonprofit.
• Publicly stated family names and Tanner/Shiloh's ministry-team presence.	• Any misuse of funds, conflict of interest, or child-safety violation.

Publication-Safety Statement

This document is a public-record and source-review brief. It is not an allegation of criminal conduct, fraud, misuse of funds, or abuse. Before publishing any statement about income, assets, net worth, compensation, business ownership, conflicts of interest, travel financing, or overseas program operations, obtain and preserve the underlying source document and accurately quote or summarize it in context.

11. June 24, 2026 Update: Public Web Preservation Review

This addendum incorporates the user-supplied screenshots and the linked public pages reviewed on June 24, 2026. It records what the pages displayed at the time of review. It does not infer who removed, unpublished, archived, or restricted any video, nor does it allege misconduct from an unavailable link or a platform error page.

Key finding: The supplied screenshots show that two specific video URLs were unavailable when viewed. That is a preservation fact, not evidence of motive. A deleted, moved, private, expired, geoblocked, platform-removed, renamed, or otherwise inaccessible page can produce similar results. Only platform logs, account records, publishing history, or a statement from the responsible organization could establish why the content is unavailable.

12. Current Rhema and RBTC Evidence

The 2026 Winter Bible Seminar brochure lists Tad Gregurich as the 9:30 a.m. speaker on Tuesday, February 17, 2026. The same program identifies Kenneth Hagin Ministries as the event sponsor and lists Rhema/RBTC programming on campus. This independently corroborates a current public speaking role within the Rhema event structure. [U3]

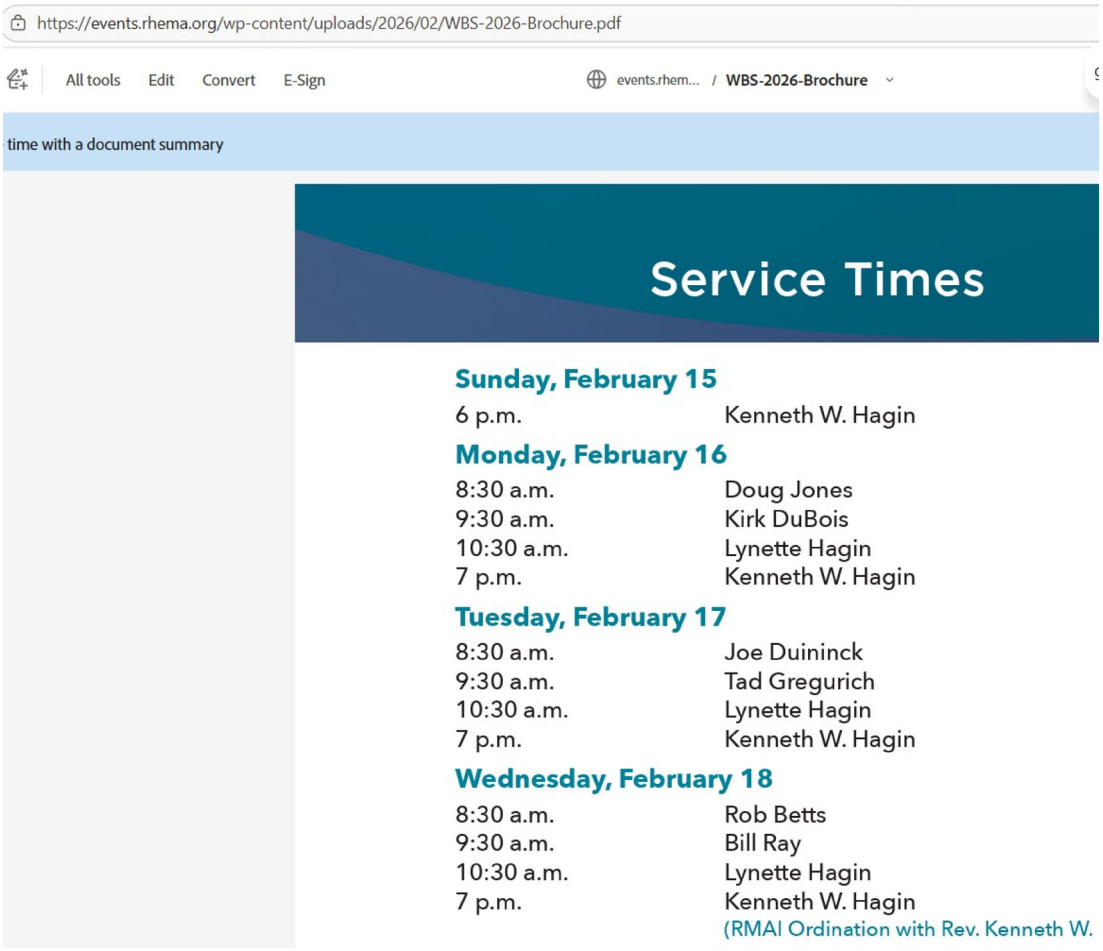

Exhibit U3 - User-supplied screenshot of the 2026 Winter Bible Seminar brochure service schedule; Tad Gregurich appears at 9:30 a.m., Tuesday, February 17, 2026.

The supplied RBTC page is titled “Inside RBTC - Instructor Highlight, Tad Gregurich,” but its embedded player displayed “Sorry - This video does not exist.” The page title remains visible in the screenshot; the video itself was not playable. The record supports only that the embedded video was unavailable when captured. [U1]

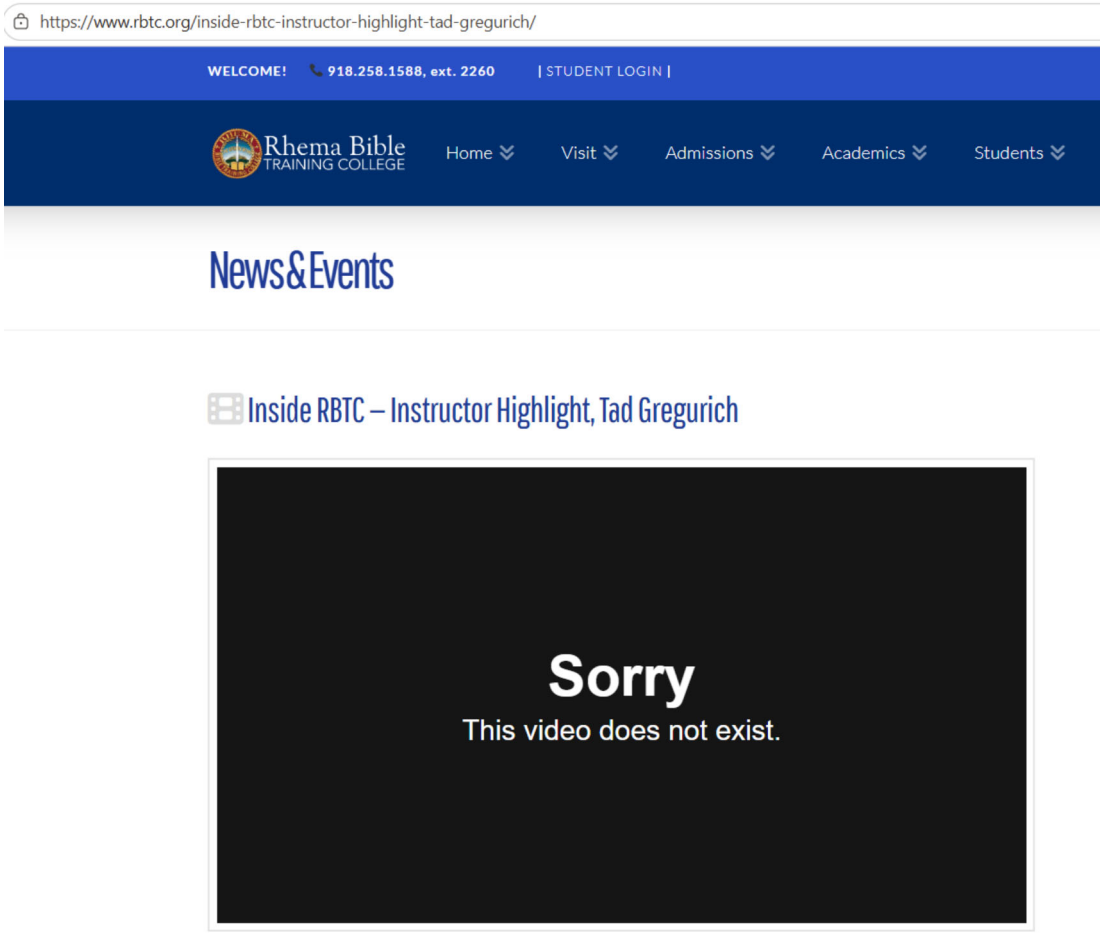

Exhibit U1 - User-supplied screenshot of RBTC instructor-highlight page displaying an unavailable embedded video.

13. Unavailable Video Link: What Can and Cannot Be Said

The supplied Rumble URL displayed “Video not found” and “410 error, this page does not exist.” In ordinary web usage, a 410 response indicates that a resource is intentionally gone from that URL; however, the screenshot alone does not identify the actor who caused the status, the date of change, whether the content was re-uploaded elsewhere, or whether the platform, uploader, or rights holder made the decision. [U2]

Publication-safe conclusion: “Two supplied video links associated with Rhema/RBTC-related content were inaccessible on the date captured. The reason for the unavailability is not established by the public screenshots reviewed.”

14. International Ministry and Kenya-Focused Fundraising

Gregurich Ministries’ current “Our Story” page states that June 2026 marks 30 years of ministry partnership in Kenya with Christ Miracle Gospel Ministry, led by Archbishop Alex Ouma Owuoth. The public page frames this as a ministry narrative and does not itself provide audited finances, grant agreements, travel budgets, child-safeguarding records, independent evaluation, or a full accounting of donor-restricted funds. [S10]

The user-supplied mission gallery shows named sections for Colombia, Brazil, Nigeria, and Guatemala, in addition to countries listed in the earlier biography-based travel summary. It supports that the ministry publicly displays international mission imagery connected to those locations; it does not verify travel dates, costs, host entities, or the legal/financial structure for each trip. [U4]

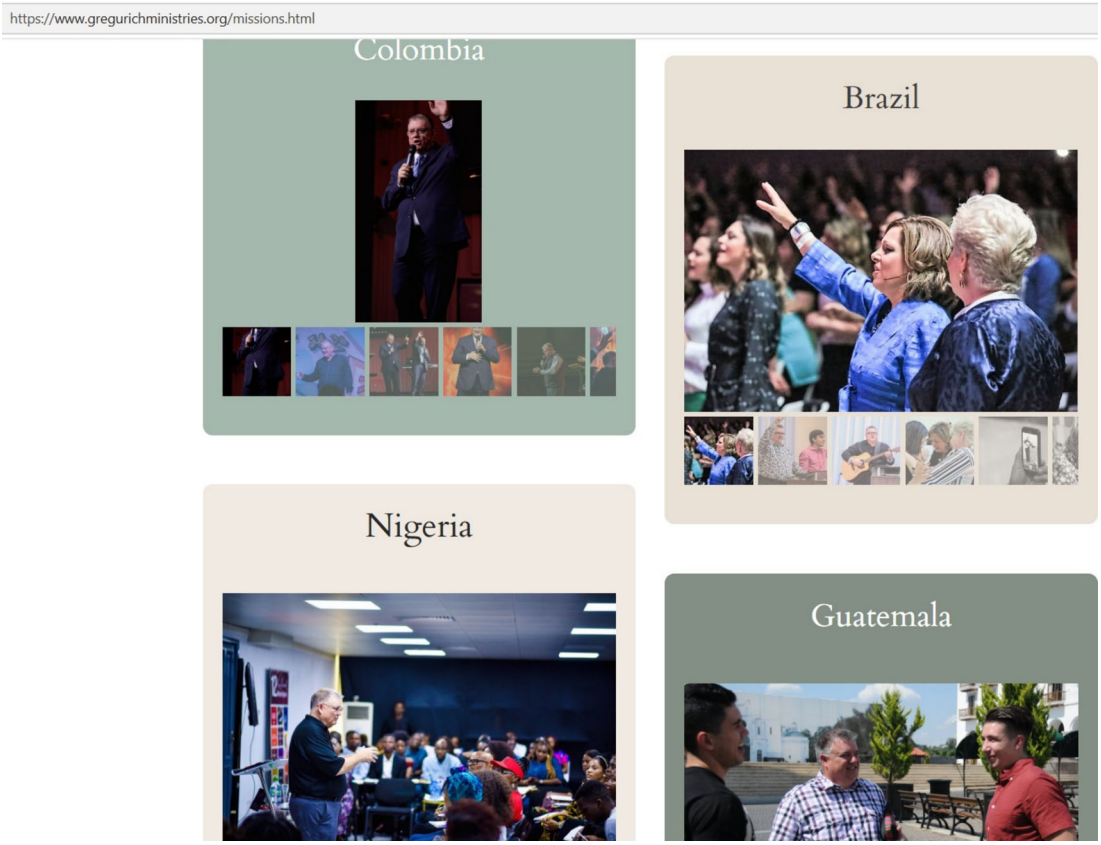

Exhibit U4 - User-supplied Gregurich Ministries mission-gallery screenshot showing Colombia, Brazil, Nigeria, and Guatemala sections.

The user-supplied donation page shows calls to “Partner With Us,” an “Orphan Project,” and a “School Supply Fundraiser” for children of Trinity Mixed Academy. The screenshot is evidence of public fundraising and child-focused program promotion. It is not a financial statement and does not establish how donated funds are allocated or whether donations are restricted. [U5]

Exhibit U5 - User-supplied Gregurich Ministries donation page screenshot.

15. Social-Media Association

The supplied X/Twitter screenshot shows an account labeled “Tad Gregurich @TadGregurich” sharing a December 29, 2019 post that quotes Pastor Craig Hagin and links to Facebook. This screenshot supports an apparent public social-media association and a reference to Pastor Craig Hagin at Rhema Bible Church. It does not establish employment terms, financial interests, decision-making authority, or the ownership/control of the account beyond the visible account label. [U6]

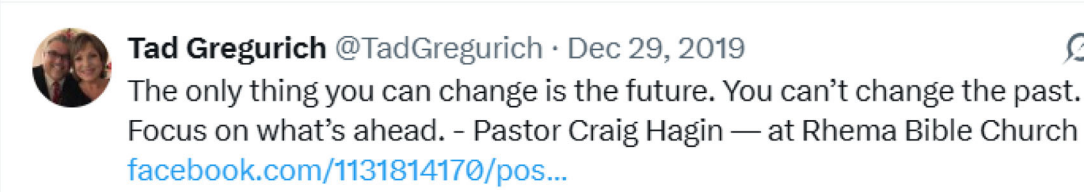

Exhibit U6 - User-supplied X/Twitter screenshot of a 2019 post labeled “Tad Gregurich @TadGregurich.”

16. Property Screenshot: Privacy-Safe Treatment

A user-supplied public property-listing screenshot was reviewed. Because it displayed a precise residential street address, a map pin, and a street-level image, this report does not reproduce those identifying details. A listing screenshot alone does not prove current ownership, purchase price, equity, debt, household income, net worth, or a connection to ministry funds. A claim about property ownership or value would require the relevant county land record, assessor record, recorded deed, mortgage/release record, and date-specific valuation evidence. [U7]

Exhibit U7 - Privacy-redacted user-supplied property-listing screenshot. Exact address and mapping details withheld.

17. Expanded Records Requests and Preservation Steps

- Preserve each inaccessible page with its complete URL, capture date/time, visible title, error language, and a PDF or screenshot. Preserve any page-source or web-archive capture separately.
- Search web archives and the organization’s own channel, podcast, sermon, and media-store catalogs for a replacement title, altered URL, or republished version before characterizing content as removed.
- Request a written explanation from the site owner or platform only if needed: whether a video was deleted, renamed, moved, set private, removed for rights reasons, or replaced; request the effective date and the custodian of the original file.

- For ministry funds, seek actual primary records: Form 990/990-EZ where available, board roster, conflict-of-interest policy, compensation-setting policy, donor-restriction policy, mission-trip budget, vendor/payment ledger, and post-trip accounting.
- For child-focused overseas programs, request documented safeguarding standards, volunteer screening, incident-reporting channels, photography/consent rules, partner due-diligence, and independent complaint pathways.

Publication-Safety Statement (Updated)

This updated report is a source-review and preservation document. It is not a finding of criminal conduct, fraud, misuse of funds, abuse, improper compensation, or conflict of interest. Inaccessible links, platform errors, nonprofit affiliations, public ministry travel, family relationships, images, fundraising pages, and public property listings do not establish wrongdoing. Any public allegation should be tied to the underlying primary record, quoted or summarized accurately in context, and reviewed for privacy, defamation, and child-safety concerns before publication.
