Publication and Verification Notice

This document compiles the supplied research text without substantive revision. It distinguishes publicly documented ministry appearances from announced or ministry-reported activity. Shared platforms, co-speakers, and broadcast carriage do not independently establish employment, governance, financial control, legal affiliation, or wrongdoing. Claims identified as unverified, planned, or requiring authenticated records remain subject to independent verification before publication.

Mark & Trina Hankins — Public Ministry History and Rhema/Kenneth Hagin Connection

Research status: June 24, 2026

Bottom line

Mark Hankins' connection to Kenneth E. Hagin, Kenneth Hagin Ministries, Rhema Bible Church, and Rhema Campmeeting is longstanding and publicly documented. The available record supports describing him as a recurring Rhema/KHM Campmeeting speaker and a minister who personally identifies Kenneth E. Hagin as his "father in the faith." It does not, based on the sources reviewed, establish that Mark Hankins is an employee, officer, board member, or family member of Kenneth Hagin Ministries or Rhema Bible Church.

Mark and Trina Hankins operate Mark Hankins Ministries from central Louisiana. Their official ministry description states they have served in pastoral and traveling ministry for more than 50 years, teach on faith, identity in Christ, and the Holy Spirit, and travel nationally and internationally through conferences, churches, television, book distribution, and missions work.

1. Mark Hankins Ministries

The official Mark Hankins Ministries site identifies its operational location as Woodworth/Alexandria, Louisiana. The ministry describes its work as conferences, television, books, social media, missions, and training/equipping pastors and leaders internationally.

The ministry's public description says Mark and Trina have been in pastoral and traveling ministry for more than 50 years and have eight grandchildren. It does not provide a formal biography listing their birthdates, full family tree, education history, compensation, net worth, audited financial statements, or detailed travel history.

The official site identifies the ministry's television program as Faith Is the Victory and states that Mark and Trina have authored books.

2. Relationship to Kenneth E. Hagin

The clearest direct evidence is Mark Hankins' own ministry writing. In a post on the ministry website, Hankins referred to Kenneth E. Hagin as his "father in the faith" and described hearing what he characterized as the last message Kenneth E. Hagin preached before his death. He recounts an interaction in which Hagin asked him to retrieve notes from the platform.

That is evidence of a personal ministerial relationship and spiritual mentorship claim by Mark Hankins. It is not, by itself, evidence of employment, governance authority, financial control, or familial relationship within Kenneth Hagin Ministries.

The relationship appears doctrinal and ministry-network based. Hankins' public teaching materials repeatedly use themes historically associated with the Word of Faith movement, including faith, confession, identity in Christ, the Holy Spirit, healing, and prosperity-oriented teaching. Rhema also published an article adapted from Hankins' 2011 Campmeeting message.

3. Rhema / Kenneth Hagin Ministries Timeline

The public record establishes repeated Mark Hankins appearances at Kenneth Hagin Ministries Campmeeting in Broken Arrow, Oklahoma.

Year	Publicly documented Rhema/KHM connection
2011	Rhema published an article adapted from Mark Hankins' Wednesday-night Campmeeting message, indicating he spoke at KHM Campmeeting that year.
2013	Rhema's Campmeeting 2013 material quotes Mark Hankins among featured speakers.
2014	Rhema sold an official Campmeeting recording of Mark Hankins' July 25 evening service, titled Be Filled With the Spirit.
2016	Rhema's Campmeeting review publicly included a quotation attributed to Mark Hankins, documenting his participation.
2017	Rhema published a speaker highlight for Mark Hankins' July 28 Campmeeting service and also sold a 2017 Campmeeting recording, Your Identification With Christ.
2018	Rhema sold a July 27, 2018 Campmeeting recording by Hankins titled Filled.
2019	Rhema sold a July 26, 2019 Campmeeting service recording by Hankins, Lift Up Your Voice and Rejoice!.
2020	Rhema sold a July 22, 2020 Campmeeting recording by Hankins.
2021	Rhema sold a July 29, 2021 Campmeeting message by Hankins, The Blood of the Everlasting Covenant.
2022	Rhema's official Campmeeting promotional material listed Mark Hankins among the speakers.
2023	Rhema sold a July 28, 2023 Campmeeting recording by Hankins titled Joy in the Holy Ghost.
2024	Rhema's official Campmeeting brochure listed Mark Hankins as a speaker and scheduled him for the Friday, July 26, 2024, 7:30 p.m. service in Broken Arrow.

This pattern supports a fair description of Hankins as a repeated, long-term guest speaker at Kenneth Hagin Ministries Campmeeting. It does not establish that he was a Rhema employee, staff pastor, executive, trustee, or officer.

4. Relationship to Rhema Bible Church

The material reviewed supports a connection primarily through the broader KHM/Rhema network and Campmeeting platform, which is held on the Rhema campus in Broken Arrow.

The 2024 KHM Campmeeting brochure lists Rhema campus facilities, hosts from the Hagin family, and Mark Hankins among the outside speakers. That demonstrates an official event connection, but not a formal leadership role at Rhema Bible Church.

No official source reviewed identified Mark or Trina Hankins as a Rhema Bible Church pastor, employee, board member, or executive leader.

5. Public Ministry Travel and International Work

I did not create a personal movement dossier or a consolidated current/future travel tracker. The defensible public-record category is publicly announced ministry events, not private travel, family movement, lodging, transportation, or location history.

Mark Hankins Ministries states that Mark and Trina minister nationally and internationally and identifies “world missions” as part of its stated assignment.

A ministry post states that Mark and Trina planned a ministry trip to Nigeria and sought approximately $100,000 in additional support for that trip and related ministry expenses. The post says the purpose included ministry meetings, pastor/leader equipping, and distribution of books. The page does not provide audited confirmation of actual funds raised or actual expenditures.

As of the ministry’s publicly posted 2026 itinerary, their announced ministry schedule includes domestic events across multiple states and publicly announced international ministry events in Bogotá, Colombia, and Bulgaria. The calendar is published by the ministry and should be treated as an itinerary, not independently verified travel completion.

6. Family Information: What Is and Is Not Verified

Verified from official or ministry-associated public sources

Mark Hankins Ministries states that Mark and Trina have eight grandchildren.

A public ministry social-media post identifies Mark and Trina as having “five beautiful children.”

Public ministry material identifies a daughter named Alicia and a son named Aaron. A public post identifies Alicia with Caleb Moran and their family; another public ministry post refers to Aaron and his wife Errin.

Not verified from reliable sources reviewed

I did not find reliable official documentation establishing that Elisha Hankins or Caleb Hankins are children of Mark and Trina Hankins.

The available search results for those names were generic people-search or unrelated genealogy results and are not enough to attribute family relationships accurately. One result identifies Caleb Moran as connected to daughter Alicia, but that is not the same as “Caleb Hankins.”

I would not place Elisha Hankins or Caleb Hankins in a public research document as Mark and Trina’s children unless there is an original ministry post, obituary, public biography, interview, church program, court record, or other primary source that clearly establishes the relationship.

7. Financial Statement Recorded June 24, 2026

Your proposed entry is mathematically correct as a conditional calculation:

On June 24, 2026, at approximately 9:45 a.m. CDT, Mark Hankins stated during a Facebook Live broadcast that the ministry had given away approximately $2.5 million, which he described as 30% of ministry funds. Using the stated percentage, the implied total ministry funds for the referenced period are approximately $8.33 million. This calculation reflects the speaker's statement and has not been independently verified through audited financial records.

Calculation:

$$$2{,}500{,}000 \div 0.30 = $8{,}333{,}333.33$$

The wording should remain careful. It does not prove annual revenue, total assets, unrestricted funds, payroll, net worth, donor income, or audited spending. It only reflects the mathematical implication of the speaker's own claimed amount and percentage.

For publication, the statement needs the original Facebook Live recording, a saved screen recording, the exact timestamp within the broadcast, and the direct wording used. Without that evidence, label it as an unverified reported statement rather than a confirmed financial fact.

8. Existing Financial-Disclosure Material

One IRS-hosted filing found in the search was a 2015 Form 990-PF from a separate Ohio private foundation that listed Mark Hankins Ministries as a grant recipient. It recorded a $11,800 grant to Mark Hankins Ministries. That filing does not reveal Mark Hankins Ministries' own total revenue, compensation, spending, assets, or governance.

The ministry's official website currently provides donation methods and describes mission activity, but the material reviewed did not include audited financial statements or a current IRS Form 990 filing for Mark Hankins Ministries.

9. Georgia Federal Docket Link

The supplied Georgia federal docket link, 1:2021mi99999, could not be substantively reviewed through the public docket page available during this search. I would not state that it involves Mark Hankins, Trina Hankins, Mark Hankins Ministries, Rhema, or Kenneth Hagin Ministries unless the caption, parties, filings, and outcome are obtained from PACER or an authenticated court-record source.

A docket number alone is not proof of wrongdoing, a lawsuit against any named person, liability, or a relationship to the ministries.

Publication-Safe Summary

Mark Hankins is a Louisiana-based traveling minister and founder of Mark Hankins Ministries. Public records from the ministry and Kenneth Hagin Ministries show a lengthy faith-network relationship with Kenneth E. Hagin and repeated appearances as a guest speaker at Kenneth Hagin Ministries Campmeeting from at least 2011 through 2024. Public ministry sources describe Mark and Trina Hankins as having more than 50 years of ministry experience, five children, and eight grandchildren. The reviewed sources do not establish that Mark Hankins is a Rhema employee, officer, board member, or Hagin family member. Publicly announced ministry events support a national and international speaking ministry, but private travel, family movements, and personal location information should not be treated as public accountability records.

search this as well and add to complete data above making no changes to the existing data, add international travel, large ministry connections and travel, international travel, dates timelines, co speakers

I'll preserve the existing record and add a separate, source-backed appendix focused on publicly announced ministry appearances, conference programs, international venues, and co-speakers—not private movement or personal travel tracking.

Thought for 13s

Below is an add-on section only. It preserves the earlier information and adds public, source-backed material on ministry networks, co-speakers, formal event appearances, and internationally announced ministry work. It does not treat social-media claims, online people-search pages, or planned itineraries as proof of completed travel, finances, or legal affiliation.

Supplemental Public-Record Research Addendum

Mark & Trina Hankins: Rhema, Kenneth Hagin Ministries, Ministry Networks, Public Events, and International Ministry References

Record timestamp: June 24, 2026

Scope and Method

This addendum supplements, but does not replace or alter, the prior Mark and Trina Hankins research record. It reviews publicly available ministry websites, published conference brochures, official ministry event pages, official broadcast schedules, and publicly available conference recaps.

This document distinguishes between:

Documented appearance or program relationship: A person is listed as a speaker, host, guest, broadcast provider, or participant in official materials.

Network relationship: Ministries appear on the same conference schedule, broadcast platform, or ministry resource list.

Claimed or planned international activity: A ministry's own statement announces a future trip or describes a ministry objective. This does not independently establish that travel occurred, who paid for it, or the final expenditures.

Not established: Employment, board membership, financial control, shared governance, family relationship, joint assets, or legal partnership are not inferred merely from shared events, speakers, platforms, or doctrinal overlap.

A. Core Relationship Summary

The public record supports describing Mark Hankins as a long-running guest speaker within the Kenneth Hagin Ministries/Rhema Campmeeting network. Official Rhema materials document his appearances in Campmeeting programming across multiple years, including 2022, 2023, and 2024.

The public record also supports describing Mark Hankins Ministries as a ministry with broadcast distribution through Kenneth Copeland Ministries' VICTORY network. VICTORY's official schedule lists Mark Hankins Ministries – Faith Is the Victory and describes the program as teaching faith, the believer's identity in Christ, and the work of the Holy Spirit.

These documented connections show recurring ministry-platform overlap. They do not, standing alone, establish that Mark Hankins Ministries is owned by, controlled by, employed by, governed by, or financially integrated with Kenneth Hagin Ministries, Rhema Bible Church, Kenneth Copeland Ministries, Eagle Mountain International Church, or VICTORY.

B. Kenneth E. Hagin / Kenneth Hagin Ministries / Rhema Connection

Mark Hankins has publicly described Kenneth E. Hagin as his "father in the faith." In an official Mark Hankins Ministries publication, Hankins described being present for what he characterized as Kenneth E. Hagin's final message and recounted a personal interaction with him. This is direct evidence of Mark Hankins' claimed ministerial mentorship relationship with Kenneth E. Hagin.

Rhema's official materials also document Mark Hankins as a Campmeeting guest speaker and as a seller of Campmeeting recordings through the Rhema store. Rhema's online materials list Mark Hankins among its downloadable Campmeeting speakers and products, reflecting an ongoing commercial distribution relationship for selected recorded messages.

Guest speakers: Marty Blackwelder, David Crammer, Darrell Huffman, Josh Pennington, Roddy Shaffer, Lois Taucher, and Marvin Yoder.

The 2024 Campmeeting brochure identifies Kenneth W. Hagin, Denise Hagin Burns, Lynette Hagin, and Craig W. Hagin as hosts. It lists Mark Hankins alongside Marty Blackwelder, David Crammer, Darrell Huffman, Josh Pennington, Roddy Shaffer, Lois Taucher, and Marvin Yoder. The brochure scheduled Hankins for the closing Friday evening service.

A 2022 Rhema Campmeeting recap lists Mark Hankins as part of the speaker group alongside Kenneth W. Hagin, Lynette Hagin, Craig W. Hagin, Charles Cowan, Darrell Huffman, Earl Glisson, Mark Boer, Tommy Pickens III, and Fred Price Jr.

A public recap of Rhema's 50th Campmeeting likewise identifies Mark Hankins among speakers with Kenneth W. Hagin, Lynette Hagin, Craig W. Hagin, Charles Cowan, Darrell Huffman, Earl Glisson, Mark Boer, and Tommy Pickens III.

C. Rhema Institutional Context

Rhema's published materials identify Rhema Bible Church as also known as Kenneth Hagin Ministries, a nonprofit corporation operating from Broken Arrow, Oklahoma. Rhema's public materials describe related ministries and educational programs including Rhema Bible Training College, Rhema Bible Church, Rhema Correspondence Bible School, Rhema Alumni Association, international schools, KHM Australia, and KHM Canada.

This organizational context is relevant because Mark Hankins' documented appearances are through Campmeeting programming connected to this larger KHM/Rhema ecosystem. It does not establish that Hankins holds an office, salary position, board role, ownership interest, or management responsibility within those organizations.

D. Kenneth Copeland Ministries / VICTORY / Eagle Mountain Connection

Mark Hankins Ministries' television program, Faith Is the Victory, appears on VICTORY's official program schedule. The VICTORY page describes Mark and Trina Hankins' program as focused on the spirit of faith, the believer's identity in Christ, and the work of the Holy Spirit.

VICTORY identifies itself as a nonprofit free-to-air network associated with Eagle Mountain International Church and Kenneth Copeland Ministries. This is evidence of broadcast carriage or programming distribution; it is not evidence that Mark Hankins Ministries is part of the corporate structure of Kenneth Copeland Ministries.

2024 Eagle Mountain International Church Co-Speaker Record

Kenneth Copeland Ministries' 2024 Covenant Partner Report lists Mark Hankins among the 2024 guest speakers at Eagle Mountain International Church's "Miracles on the Mountain" event.

The same report lists the following additional speakers:

- Kenneth Copeland
- Rick Renner
- David Barton
- Jesse Duplantis
- Nancy Dufresne
- Mark Burns
- Billy Burke
- Ambassador David Friedman
- Mark Provisor
- Yossi Landau
- Sam Grundwerg
- Shmulik Fried
- Joshua Waller
- Rani Levy

The report describes Eagle Mountain International Church as pastored by George and Terri Pearsons and connected with the broader Kenneth Copeland Ministries organization.

This supports a documented public-platform connection between Mark Hankins and the Kenneth Copeland/EMIC speaker network. It does not, without additional records, establish a formal legal, financial, board, employment, or governance relationship.

E. Publicly Announced International Ministry Activity

Nigeria — 2024 Announced Ministry Work

In March and April 2024, Mark Hankins Ministries published statements announcing a planned Nigeria trip.

The ministry stated that Mark and Trina Hankins expected to minister to “thousands of believers” in Lagos and Abuja, Nigeria, with an intended focus on training pastors in Word of Faith teaching and the work of the Holy Spirit. The ministry also stated that it planned to distribute books during the meetings.

In a separate April 2024 ministry statement, Mark and Trina Hankins wrote that their next international trip would be in May to minister in Nigeria. The ministry said it was seeking an additional $100,000 to cover the expenses of that trip and related ministry work.

These are ministry-originated fundraising and itinerary statements. They establish what the ministry publicly announced and sought to fund. They do not independently verify whether the trip occurred, actual attendance, exact destinations beyond the stated cities, the amount raised, actual expenditures, donors, or ministry accounting.

Bogotá, Colombia — Announced Future Ministry Work

In a March 2024 ministry message, Mark and Trina Hankins stated that their next missions trip would be to Bogotá, Colombia. The statement said the anticipated audience would include pastors, leaders, and Bible-school students from several Spanish-speaking countries.

This is evidence of an announced ministry plan and intended audience, not independently verified travel completion or a documented list of participants.

International Ministry Description

The official Mark Hankins Ministries website describes Mark and Trina Hankins as traveling nationally and internationally to preach and teach. Its store site repeats that public description. This is a ministry self-description, not a complete travel ledger or independently audited list of countries, costs, or completed events.

F. Public 2026 Ministry Schedule

As of June 24, 2026, the main Mark Hankins Ministries website displayed the following upcoming events at its Louisiana headquarters:

Dates	Event	Location Stated by Ministry
June 23–26, 2026	Campmeeting	Alexandria, Louisiana
October 15–17, 2026	Supernatural Women’s Conference	Mark Hankins Ministries Headquarters
November 10–12, 2026	MHM Conference	Mark Hankins Ministries Headquarters

These listings are publicly posted event announcements. They should not be treated as evidence of attendance, actual travel completion, event revenue, expenses, sponsor payments, or participant lists.

G. Ministry Network Connections: Evidence Level

Directly Documented Public Connections

Organization / Ministry	Nature of Documented Connection	Evidence Limit
Kenneth Hagin Ministries / Rhema	Repeated Campmeeting guest speaker; official recordings and event materials distributed through Rhema.	Does not establish employment, leadership, or governance role.
Rhema Bible Church	Campmeeting appearances on Rhema USA campus in Broken Arrow; 2024 official brochure lists Hankins as speaker.	Does not establish church staff, membership, salary, or board role.
Kenneth Copeland Ministries / VICTORY	Faith Is the Victory carried on VICTORY schedule.	Broadcast carriage is not proof of corporate ownership or formal ministry affiliation.
Eagle Mountain International Church	Listed as a 2024 “Miracles on the Mountain” guest speaker.	Does not establish membership, employment, or financial relationship.
Other Rhema Campmeeting Speakers	Shared conference platform over multiple years.	Shared events do not establish partnerships, joint finances, or personal relationships.

Ministry Listings That Require Caution

A third-party church “Ministry Friends” page lists Kenneth Hagin Ministries, Mark Hankins Ministries, Tony Cooke Ministries, Moore Life Ministries, Doug Jones Ministries, and others in a general resource list. This can be described only as an outside church’s list of ministries it recommends or identifies as “friends.” It is not reliable proof of formal partnership among the ministries listed.

H. Family Information: Confirmation Standard

The official Mark Hankins Ministries materials state that Mark and Trina Hankins have eight grandchildren. Public ministry social-media material has described the couple as having five children. Public ministry posts identify children or adult family members including Alicia and Aaron.

The reviewed reliable sources do not establish that Elisha Hankins or Caleb Hankins are children of Mark and Trina Hankins. Names that appear in people-search sites, generic genealogy pages, unrelated social-media profiles, or partial search results should not be included as verified family members without a primary source clearly confirming the relationship.

For publication, list only family connections supported by an original ministry post, official biography, obituary, public interview, public church program, court filing, or similarly reliable source.

I. Financial-Statement Entry: June 24, 2026

Proposed Record Entry

On June 24, 2026, at approximately 9:45 a.m. Central Daylight Time, Mark Hankins stated during a Facebook Live broadcast that the ministry had given away approximately $2.5 million, which he described as 30% of ministry funds. Based solely on that stated percentage, the implied total amount for the referenced period would be approximately $8.33 million:

$2,500,000 ÷ 0.30 = $8,333,333.33

This is a mathematical calculation based on the speaker's own reported amount and percentage. It is not independently verified through audited financial statements, Internal Revenue Service filings, donor records, bank records, annual reports, expense ledgers, payroll records, or external accounting documentation.

For publication, retain the original video, capture the full relevant segment, note the precise in-video timestamp, preserve the URL and date accessed, and quote the statement exactly.

J. Docket Verification Note

The supplied federal docket reference, 1:2021mi99999, should not be described as involving Mark Hankins, Trina Hankins, Mark Hankins Ministries, Rhema, or Kenneth Hagin Ministries unless the case caption, named parties, filings, and disposition are obtained from PACER or another authenticated federal-court-record source.

A docket number by itself does not establish that a person or ministry was sued, subpoenaed, accused, liable, investigated, or otherwise involved in the matter.

K. Publication-Safe Conclusion

The public record supports a longstanding Mark Hankins relationship with the Kenneth Hagin Ministries/Rhema conference network, including repeated Campmeeting speaking appearances and official sale of selected recorded messages through Rhema channels. Mark Hankins Ministries also has a public broadcast presence through Kenneth Copeland Ministries' VICTORY platform and has appeared at Eagle Mountain International Church events alongside nationally known Word of Faith and charismatic speakers.

Official ministry statements describe national and international teaching activity and announced 2024 ministry plans involving Lagos and Abuja, Nigeria, and Bogotá, Colombia. The available sources establish the ministry's public announcements and event-platform associations. They do not independently establish completed travel, private travel details, audited finances, employment roles within Rhema or Kenneth Copeland Ministries, shared governance, financial control, or wrongdoing by any individual or organization.

The strongest additions are the dated Rhema Campmeeting records, the 2024 official speaker roster, the VICTORY broadcast listing, the 2024 Eagle Mountain co-speaker list, and the Nigeria/Bogotá ministry announcements. The international items should stay labeled as announced or ministry-reported activity unless you have event videos, host-church programs, photos with verifiable metadata, or independent local reporting confirming completion.
