Prepared June 23, 2026 | Clean Rebuild Edition

Purpose and verification notice

This report compiles official ministry material, third-party published profiles, and court-docket information provided by the requestor. It is a research synthesis, not an official record, legal opinion, credit report, asset search, or finding of wrongdoing. Verify all legal, financial, property, and organizational information with the official record keeper before relying on it.

OSCN notice reproduced in substance: the information on that page is not an official record; do not rely on its correctness or completeness; verify with the official record keeper. The information is provided under the Oklahoma Open Records Act, 51 O.S. 24A.1, and other applicable law.

1. Scope, Identity Resolution & Research Standard

This is a clean rebuild focused on one documented person: Denise Hagin Burns. It corrects the earlier identity ambiguity by treating the court record chain as the primary support for the name sequence Kimberly Denise Hagin -> Denise Haverkamp -> Denise Hagin Burns. The chain is supported by matching spouse Jason L. Haverkamp and the linked 1996 marriage-license and 1998 divorce docket information supplied for this report.

Birth-family position	Texas-born daughter of Kenneth W. Hagin and Lynette Hagin	High - official Rhema biography

3. Marriage, Divorce and Court-Docket History

Court information below is transcribed from the OSCN docket text supplied by the requestor. This report does not claim that an online docket is a certified court record. The docket shows a prior marriage and divorce; it does not itself establish fault findings beyond the listed default-divorce disposition.

Date	Court matter	Recorded docket detail
10/02/1996	ML-1996-3366 - Marriage license	Kimberly Denise Hagin and Jason L. Haverkamp listed as applicants. Application filed and license issued; cash receipt recorded.

09/17/1998	Docket narrative	Plaintiff present; one witness sworn; testimony heard; divorce granted per decree. Docket states plaintiff was represented by Mike King.
Marriage to Don Burns	Date not confirmed in sources used for this rebuild	Official Rhema materials identify Don as her husband. This report does not state a marriage date without an original marriage record or authoritative dated source.

Representation finding: the docket supports representation of Denise Haverkamp in the 1998 divorce by Mike/Michael James King and shows Winters, King & Associates, Inc. paying the filing receipt. It does not establish that the firm represents Denise Burns now or had any role in later ministry decisions.

6. Texas Pastoral History and Public Ministry Footprint

Rhema's Fall/Winter 2007 Connections publication is the strongest direct source for the Texas church assignment. It identifies Don and Denise Burns as pastors of The Harbor Church in Austin. The same article presents their children's-ministry recommendations: multimedia curriculum, youth involvement, and redesigned children's space. The 2008 Connections article separately documents the couple's Round Rock residence/work context and their use of an envelope budget system for mortgage, utilities, groceries, babysitting, pet care, and other monthly expenses.

8. Asset, Income and Estimated Net-Worth Profile

This section is included because public leadership and long-term household economic context are part of the requested accountability review. It does not claim verified ownership of any item below. The figures are modeled ranges, not appraisals, based on the documented combination of: (1) long-term senior ministry leadership; (2) Don Burns' senior corporate, consulting, homebuilding-equity, and real-estate career; and (3) the 2008 public statement that the household budgeted mortgage, utilities, and daily expenses. No certified property search, tax return, retirement statement, vehicle title search, credit report, appraisal, or probate inventory was reviewed.

Asset / liability category	Modeled household range	Confidence	Basis / exclusion
Current annual household income (gross)	$250,000 - $650,000	Low	Modeled from senior church leadership plus real-estate-team / business-income potential. No W-2, 1099, commission report, or KHM compensation record located.

Modeled household net-worth range	$1.0 million - $5.0 million	Low overall	Arithmetic scenario, not a verified personal net-worth figure. Excludes assets held by Rhema/KHM/Rhema Bible Church and excludes unverified inherited interests.

Organizational-separation rule: Rhema Bible Church, Kenneth Hagin Ministries, RBTC, and affiliated nonprofit assets are not personal assets of Denise or Don Burns unless a reliable ownership, compensation, beneficial-interest, or transfer record establishes otherwise. This model does not count ministry campuses, church facilities, donor funds, or ministry intellectual property as personal household wealth.

9. Governance, Affiliations and Decision-Making Boundaries

Topic	Documented information	Boundary / what remains unverified
Rhema Bible Church leadership	Official bio identifies Denise as executive pastor and family ministries pastor.	Title alone does not show board seat, voting power, compensation-setting authority, fiduciary responsibility, or authority over other corporate entities.
Rhema Bible Training College	Official bio identifies Denise as an instructor.	No public faculty contract, pay rate, or governance charter reviewed.
Kenneth Hagin Ministries	Official bio says she has been on staff since 1993 and worked in several departments.	No public IRS Form 990 salary figure or individual employment contract located.
RMAI / Alumni links	Connections identifies the Burns couple as RBTC alumni; Rhema programs and conference material show ministry affiliations.	Alumni/ministerial affiliation does not itself prove corporate control.
Political ties	No verified campaign contribution, office, PAC role, or partisan endorsement attributable to Denise Burns was documented in the sources used here.	Absence of a located record is not proof that none exists; a full FEC/Oklahoma Ethics Commission search would be required for a definitive conclusion.
Court history	The 1996 marriage-license and 1998 divorce docket are documented from user-provided OSCN text.	No broader statewide/national civil, criminal, bankruptcy, probate, or property-record sweep was represented as complete.

Recommended official-record checks before treating any modeled asset figure as verified:

- Tulsa County Assessor and Clerk records for current and historical property ownership, deeds, mortgages, and releases under each legally documented name variation.
- Oklahoma Secretary of State entity filings, UCC records, and assumed-name registrations for business interests and board/officer roles.
- Oklahoma Real Estate Commission license lookup and brokerage affiliation records for Don Burns; commission, production, and income remain private unless voluntarily disclosed.
- Texas Secretary of State / county property and entity records for The Harbor Church and the Round Rock/Austin period, including incorporation and deed history.
- Certified Tulsa County marriage/divorce records to verify marriage dates, decree terms, and name transitions beyond the online docket summary.
- IRS returns or audited financial statements if voluntarily released by relevant nonprofit entities; churches generally do not file public Form 990s in the same way as other nonprofits.
- Direct confirmation from the relevant board or organization for governance, compensation, director/officer status, and conflict-of-interest disclosures.

12. Conclusions

The public record supports a long-standing, multigenerational ministry career for Denise Hagin Burns, with formal education in early childhood education, Rhema training, documented staff employment beginning in 1993, Texas church pastoring with Don Burns, and current executive/family-ministry leadership at Rhema Bible Church. The records also support a prior 1996 Hagin-Haverkamp marriage license and 1998 Haverkamp divorce in Tulsa County, with Michael James King/Mike King and Winters, King & Associates appearing in the supplied docket text. The economic profile is necessarily modeled, because public sources do not disclose individual salary, tax returns, retirement balances, property title, investment accounts, debt schedules, or a verified personal net worth. The modeled household net-worth range in this report should be treated as an analytical estimate only, not a factual asset declaration.
