Expanded Family, Institutional & Public-Record Network Profile

Revised October 5, 2026 | Criminal matters reported with charge/disposition distinctions

Verification standard

This report distinguishes allegations, filed charges, pleas, convictions, employment actions, and family relationships. A charge is not a conviction. It does not infer wrongdoing by Kenneth Wesley Burns from the conduct of relatives. Family criminal-history entries are included only to document the institutional/family network and are attributed to the individual involved. Height and weight below are presented as high-school recruiting measurements, not necessarily current 2026 measurements.

3. Craig W. Hagin - Relationship, Ministry Career and 2026 Criminal Case

Craig W. Hagin is Denise Hagin Burns's brother and therefore Kenneth Wesley Burns's maternal uncle. Rhema historical material names Craig and Denise together as Kenneth W. and Lynette Hagin's children. Before his 2026 removal, public Rhema material identified Craig in senior ministry/operations roles.

Date	Event	Disposition / significance
Before Mar. 2026	Craig served in senior Rhema/KHM leadership, including Chief Operating Officer and pastoral roles.	Documents a senior institutional connection, not criminal conduct.

Date	Event	Disposition / significance
Mar. 2026	Craig and Mia Hagin were arrested and formally charged in Tulsa County with two counts of cruelty to animals after authorities removed approximately 25 cats and dogs from a residence.	Felony charges at filing stage; charge is not proof of guilt.
June 3, 2026	Rhema ended Craig Hagin's employment, leadership roles, and association with the church and ministries.	Employment/ministry action is distinct from the criminal disposition.
July 7, 2026	Craig pleaded no contest after the animal-cruelty counts were reduced to two misdemeanor counts of disturbing the peace.	Court accepted plea and found him guilty on the amended misdemeanor counts.

4. Blake Kenneth Hagin - Relationship and 2017 Criminal Case

Date	Event	Disposition / significance
March 2017	Tulsa County case CF-2017-1706 charged Blake Kenneth Hagin with Use of a Vehicle in Discharge of a Weapon under 21 O.S. section 652. Contemporary reporting said a Broken Arrow residence was struck more than 20 times.	Filed felony criminal case.
2017	Former longtime Tulsa County District Attorney Tim Harris told The Frontier he had negotiated on behalf of the Hagin family concerning Blake's case.	Documented legal/political-network connection; not proof of improper influence.
Nov. 2017	Court-record reporting states Blake entered a blind guilty plea.	Guilty plea; case did not proceed to trial.
Sentencing	Public reporting/court summaries document an eight-year prison sentence.	Criminal conviction and custodial sentence.
Later disposition	Blake was subsequently granted early release, with the remainder of the sentence reported as probation.	Relevant correctional disposition; early release is not characterized as favoritism absent comparative evidence.

5. Family / Institutional Network Relevance

The inclusion of Craig and Blake does not attribute their conduct to Wesley. The relevance is structural: Wesley's immediate and extended maternal family includes multiple people who have held public Rhema/KHM roles, while public records show separate criminal-justice-system encounters involving Craig and Blake. Blake's case additionally produced a documented connection to former Tulsa County District Attorney Tim Harris, who said he negotiated on behalf of the Hagin family.

9. Analytical Boundary

No criminal conduct by Craig Hagin or Blake Hagin is attributed to Kenneth Wesley Burns. No political affiliation is assigned to Wesley because of Tim Harris's involvement in Blake's case, Don Burns's Government Affairs Committee service, or the family's ministry network. Those facts are documented as network connections only. Claims of favoritism, coordinated political influence, financial conflicts, or institutional corruption require evidence beyond family relationship and the public records summarized here.
